COACH JAMES SHARMAN
Head of Physical Education and Athletic Departments

DEDICATION

Coach James Edward Sharman is a graduate of Howard College (1943) who has returned to make Howard an even greater college.

He is head of the Department of Health and Physical Education and Athletic Director and coaches a state champion tennis team each year.

Coach now finds one of his dreams coming true as the gym is finished, providing a complete program of physical education.

He is loved and appreciated by the students and faculty and has helped bring Howard athletics to a respectable position in college circles. This past 1960-61 year saw the best year in Howard's history for all intercollegiate sports combined.

It is for this and what Coach Sharman has meant to his students and associates that we, the staff of 1960-61, dedicate the ENTRE NOUS.

Harold Holder — EDITOR AND CHIEF PHOTOGRAPHER

ENTRE NOUS

We of the annual staff hope that you enjoy this 1960-61 edition of the ENTRE NOUS, which we hope to be one of the best ever produced.

I want to personally thank the staffers for the long hours of hard work that they gave without pay in order that this book and the beauty pageant might be a success. There were several people who contributed to the annual whose pictures we could not get for this section including: Martha Beckett, Mary Lane Holland, Tommie Ellington, and many others. Thanks so much

The year's first tournament saw Howard walk off with the first place sweepstakes trophy at the annual Dixie Debate Tournament at Mercer, beating arch rival University of Kentucky for the second time in three years. The varsity team was: Jack Haley, Nelda Chadwick, Wayne Flynt, and Don Ragsdale.

During the 1960-61 season, the Howard intercollegiate debaters made their 8th consecutive tour of the debate circuit, arguing the justice or injustice of the year's topic: "Resolved that the United States should adopt a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens." During the year the team won or placed in such tournaments as Dixie Debate Tournament in Mercer University, Carolina Forensics at Un. of S. C., the Southern Regional Tau Kappa Alpha at the University of Alabama, and the Millsaps Invitational. At their home tournament in December, had the team been eligible, Harold Holder and Paul Smith would have won affirmative and Don Ragsdale and Wayne Flynt would have won negative.

What is the collective opinion of the team in regard to adapting compulsory health insurance: They are 100% against it!

The second week of February, Howard split forces. The team on the left of Holder, Ragsdale, Flynt and Smith, (Coach Ja Luther is in middle) swept the Florida State University Tournament by the largest sweepstakes points in three years.

At the same time a team of Sanford Colley, Nelda Chadwick, George Frey, and Marvin Edgeworth were taking the Mississippi University Tournament.

TEAM

The first week in March, Frey, Holder, Johnston, and Smith (not pictured) tied for first place honors at the Mississippi State College for Women Tournament, only to lose the trophy on speaker points. Coach Luther is at right.

WAYNE FLYNT AND DON RAGSDALE — o senior varsity team which compiled an extraordinary record of 27 wins and 13 losses against the very best in the South and East.

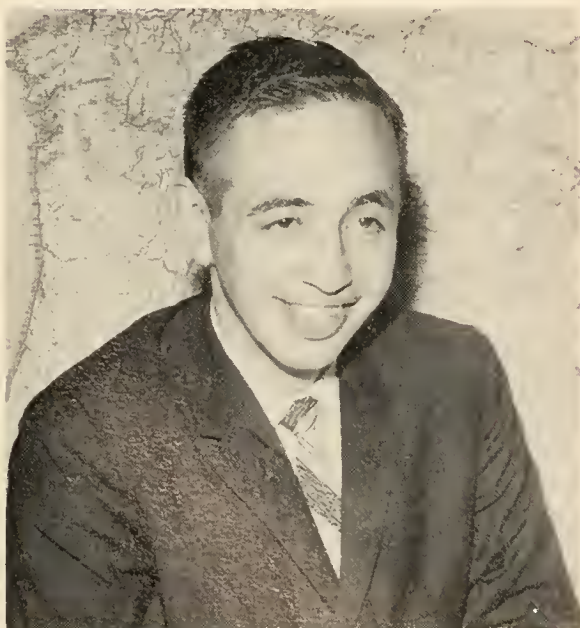

They swept by such name teams as U. of Kentucky, Wake Forest, U. of Ala., Memphis State, Florida State, and U. of Tenn. The only tournament that had a losing record was the best in the nation, the Notre Dame Invitational, where they met such nationally ranked teams as Illinois State, U. of Nebraska, and St. John's of Minn.

Delta Sig officers for 1961 — President Jimmy Crawford, Veep Ingram Gomillion, Secretary Ned Simintan, and Treasurer Fred Longston.

Beta Chi of Delta Sigma Phi began their fraternal year by pledging twelve new men.

In October the Delto Sigs had several parties, among which was their all night escapade decoration for homecoming party.

The Delta Sig Pledge Sweetheart, Barbara Yarbrough, represented the pledges very well by being elected Cutest Sorority Pledge. Frank Parter added to the fraternity's honors by writing the winning skit for the Delta Sigs for Greek Stunt Night.

The month of December brought the 61st anniversary of Delta Sigma Phi. At the annual Founder's Day Banquet the actives and pledges were honored to have outstanding alumnus Robert Beddow as their guest. Individual awards presented at this occasion were Most Outstanding Active Ingram Gomillion, and Most Outstanding Pledge Winston Stuart.

Ingram Gomillion served as President of I. F. C. for the first semester, and Pat Salamane served second semester as treasurer. Charles McCallum was a finalist in the Mr. Friendship contest.

The year was climaxed with the annual houseparty at Panama City, Florida, with Mr. and Mrs. George Smith as chaperones.

President Hank Mayer ably leads the Lambda Chi's with the help of Bob Zeneah, Jimmy Davidson, Bill Beavers, Lynn Davis, Kenneth Dave, and James Sawyer.

"So close but a thousand miles away." Yes, this could be a good summary of what this year has been for the men of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Many setbacks were in store this year for the Lambda Chi's. We sat back and watched the Sigma Nu's be the lovers and brains, the Pikes be the athletes, and the Delta Sigs just be here.

We were robbed several times this year. The most notable being when our Homecoming display was judged "professional." Someone also robbed us of our pup-tent which we were using for a fraternity house.

Bill Beavers served as President the first semester with the highlights being the Homecoming Banquet and the Annual Christmas Party. Hank Mayer took over the reins second semester and the highlights were the joint Founder's Day celebration with B. S. C. Lambda Chi's and the presentation of the new Crescent Girl, and the annual houseparty held in Panama City, Florida.

Jahn Norman was honored as Outstanding Pledge, Hank Moyer as Outstanding Active, and Bill Beavers as Outstanding Senior.

Iota of Sigma Nu began a very successful fraternity year by sponsoring the second annual SIGMA NU EVENTS. Again this year there was very much interest shown by the campus sororities.

The Men of Iota rated first class among the sororities. The Phi Mu's chose Lundy Clements as their Alpha Gramma Guy and Jack Hare as their pledge sweetheart. Beta Sigma Omicron selected Ned Russel for their Beta Beau and the pledges selected Bob McKenzie as their favorite male. Alpha Delta Pi honored Norman Rice by naming him Kappa King and equally honored by the Delta Zetas was Evan Veal by being named D Z Man. Mike Drake and Mason Dollar were elected Cutest and Alternate Cutest Pledge by the sororities respectively.

Lundy Clements served Kappa Phi Kappa as President, Joe Brewer served as Vice President of the S. G. A. and Omicron Delta Kappa, and Bob McKenzie served as Vice President of the Freshman Class.

. . . AND AFTER

The completion of the one million dollar Howard Gymnasium was this past August. The new addition to the gym features a basketball court which has a seating capacity of 4,000. It also contains an Olympic swimming pool, dormitory for visiting teams, handball courts, class rooms, and intramural basketball courts. Howard will soon teach the largest variety of sports taught in any college in the South.

.... THE PURSUIT

SEPTEMBER

The freshmen were cordially commanded to come to school five days early for the second annual freshman orientation. The purpose of this is to assure that all the rats are absolutely confused, so that they were numb by the time registration got here. Tests . . . pep rallies . . . talent shows . . . tests . . . "cabbages and kings" . . . tests . . . games . . . sore feet . . . tests . . . tests . . . and the climax of the week . . . more tests.

The first official sorority rush week in Howard's history saw girls rushing to ice water teas and parties. The eighth wonder of the world, the IBM machine, showed his stuff for the first time at Howard during registration. This machine is almost human . . . so human it can't spell either. Final count . . . 2,037.

Even the cars have to register at Howard and Pinky (sometimes known as the Sherlock Holmes of the Pinkerton Agency) in his black charger covered the campus with $5 tickets.

September brought new faces . . . green frosh . . . 18 new faculty members . . . a boa constrictor . . . and Duke, new college mascot. He proved his fighting spirit by chasing the majorettes, the waterboy, and sometimes, the players.

The first football game proved the students to be more than fairweather friends as they sat under torrents of rain to cheer the team to victory.

The $950,000 Chapel and Religious Building was completed, and work begun on the addition to the Physical Education plant. At this time students began to take more interest in the notional elections.

MISS SEPTEMBER, Barbara Whatley, helps cheer the Bulldogs for their first football game in September.

Registration allowed us to peer through glass partholes and smile while we paid out our life savings

Mass production and long lines were the order of the day, while sore feet and writer's cramp from filling out the forty page booklets made their contribution.

Just before the college opened in September, we heard that three of our girls, left to right, Rhonda Dean, Ruth Calley, and Sondro Bishop, had been lost for several days in the Grand Canyon. Their diet consisted of wild berries. This is getting a sun tan the hard way!

The first football game was mud, water, rain, and more mud. The cheerleaders left sweaters and skirts at home and found sweat shirts and turned-down sailor hats to be more suitable.

The mudboys bottled bravely through it all, and Howard had its first win, 14-0.

Homecoming was not far away, and the committee pulled their hair and wadded paper and finally produced a creditable product. Left to right, Art Christmas with the "V"; Mr. Russell Donaldson, "I"; Joe Brewer, "C"; Mrs. Leslie Wright, "T"; Mr. Floyd McCoy, "O"; and Ray Willingham (if he could learn to spell) predict a "Victory" for Howard at Homecoming.

PEP RALLY

Lindy Martin announced

. . . the bass drum carried the beat

. . . the band blared the fight song . . .

. . . and the crowd screamed out its lungs . . .

The majorettes flashed to the music . .

While the heart of the pep rally, the cheerleaders, keep up spirit and enthusiasm.

OCTOBER

The Homecoming Day ambush for the Miss. College Choctaws reversed in Howard's only defeat of the season . . . but the weekend was still unforgettable.

Meanwhile it was "rough on Rats" as upperclassmen celebrated the annual Rat Week with greedy revenge in their eyes.

An unexpected crowd of 1,400 high school seniors descended upon the campus for the second annual High School day.

All homesick students had their nostalgia satisfied with an all-campus family-style dinner. "Mom" Smith, keeper of the boys, conducted the affair . . . a success for all eaters . . . a loss to the feeders . . .

October saw the girls of Third East in the Girl's Dorm become Peanuts, and the passing of house mother, Mrs. Kerr.

Trouble with Robots who have minds of their own was the theme of the Masquer's production, "R.U.R."

Two hundred fans traveled all the way to Georgetown, Ky., to see the Bulldogs in action.

MISS OCTOBER, Jean Brown, prepares for Halloween as she introduces October.

The scoreboard tells the story . . . another shutout.

At the Georgetown game Band Director Floyd McCoy expresses his approval (?) of another Bulldog romp. He is supported by an amazingly large crowd, considering the length of the trip to Kentucky.

A facet of Homecoming was Rat Week, which all freshmen lie awake at night dreading and all upperclassmen prepare for. Two upperclassmen find that there is nothing better for mealtime than attractive female rats to serve the food and run errands.

Upperclassmon Roderick Conrad gets kindly treatment by Emily Jo Colley, Jeon Brown, and Flayd Watkins.

The Homecoming festivities became another extravaganza beginning with the pageant and pep rally on Friday night. Here Master of Ceremonies Bill Hornbuckle helps the cheerleaders in a cheer.

Last year's Queen Mortha Ann Cox crowns the new queen, Gail Hyle, as the pageant reaches a climax.

Part of the entertainment for the night was provided by a faculty quartet, Ben Connell, Russell Donaldson, David Marris and President Leslie Wright.

Queen Gail reigns

Alternates Sara Pate and Julia Alice Granade and Queen Gail pose for their formal portrait.

Some valiant souls stayed up the whole night to grace the campus with appropriate decorations.

Part of the Homecoming parade . . . a Howard bulldog has eaten some little Mississippi College Indians, who are facing the other side of the street to keep from the camera.

The float by the Baptist Student Union puffed its way into first place.

The cheerleaders perch atop a convertible to lead the parade.

The Queen's float greets parade viewers.

The Pikes captured first place for compus decorations for "Grinding the Indions."

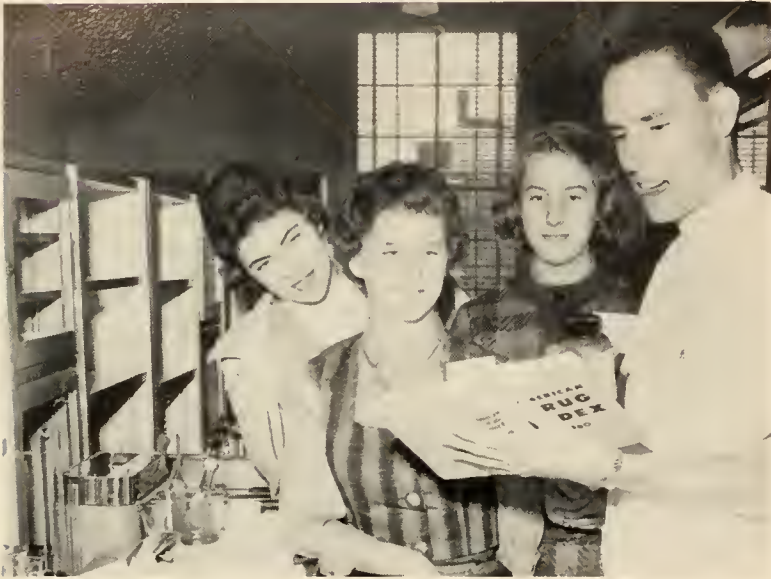

Top right: "Another First" . . . football over television . . . local fans viewed the bulldogs over Chonnal 6.

Right: Pikes presented "Duke," Bulldog mascot, with a winter uniform prior to the ballgame. The cheerleaders assisted in the "clookng" ceremony.

High School Day brought floods of students to get lost on the campus. Know any better way to get students?

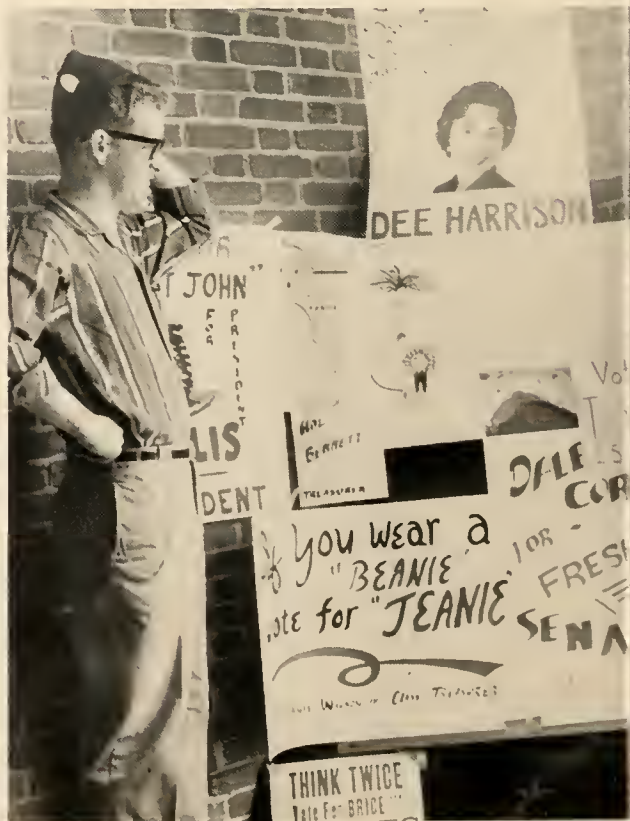

These high school girls are particularly interested in what Ned Simonton is showing in the drug book, which is up-side down, incidentally.

"Mom" Kerr passed away after serving as house mother for the girls for three years.

Gory Wolfskill, center, was crowned "Chorley Brown" by the Peanuts floor, third-west, of the Girls' Dorm. Betty Ruth Stone and Mary Gibbs do the honors.

Douglas Olive found the selections of Frosh leaders in October confusing.

Bowden puts in full day during games...

Head Coach Bobby Bowden never slows down during a game . . . he is the nearest thing a perpetual motion at Howard . . . Here Bowden discusses the game before the kickoff.

Watching . . . talking . . . walking . . . Bowden constantly points out things to his men . . . Here to Julius Head.

Contrary to popular belief, halftime in the dressing room is hardly screams, sobs, and pleas. Bowden calmly goes over the game progress with his players, spotting weaknesses and strengths.

Success . . . Bowden has a familiar happy ending with his boys winning eight of nine this year.

NOVEMBER

MISS NOVEMBER, Rhonda Dean, stalks her Thanksgiving dinner in the old-fashioned Pilgrim manner.

The annuals finally arrived and everyone frantically looked for his picture.

Howard's debate team "talked" its way into another Sweepstakes Trophy over 14 opposing teams.

The football team climbed the video waves for the first time with 2 of the home games broadcast live for the TV audience.

Sigma Nu Events sponsored dignified competitive sports, such as pie-eating and sack races.

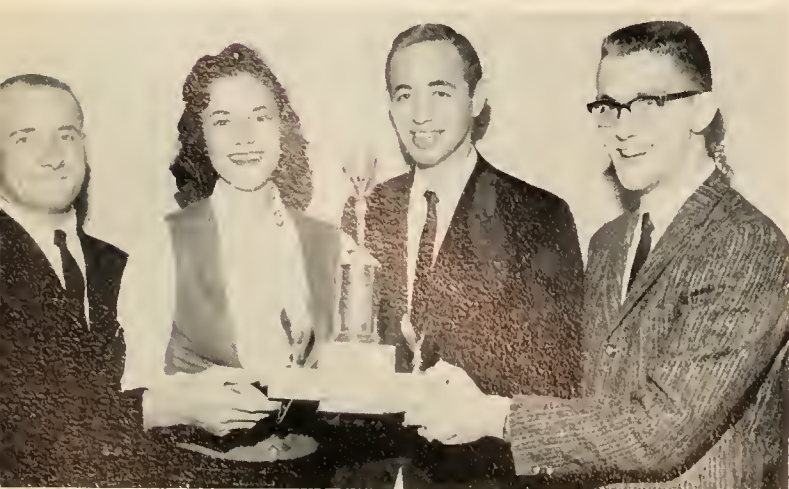

Trees were planted on Howard's campus. There are a few skeptics who don't believe the trees will grow.

Another first was launched for Howard as the S.G.A. Concert and Lecture series began its life.

The Class of '62 got a custom built flag up for the campus.

In preparation for the Thespian season, the Tack Room was built in the Chapel basement.

A tree grows on campus . . . enjoying this strange phenomenon are Barboro Connell and John Davidson.

Dr. Newton Strondberg, Music Dept., had his composition, "Extolment I," premiered in the Chapel during November.

Mutt and Jeff . . . the tallest basketballer, 6'7" Clyde Frederick, towers over the shortest, 5'8" Jerry Lehman.

Howell Glenn finds the home style meal much to his liking.

Carol Horris, BULLPUP editor, is swamped with requests for the phonebook.

The meal sponsored by the Dorms brought out the largest group of supper ever. Hunter Draper and Mae Lynn Todd are served by Mike Bradley.

Formal dedication of the A. Hamilton Reid Chapel was held during November. The chapel was first used this school year.

LECTURE SERIES BEGINS WITH SPACE ROCKETS

The first of Howard's lecture series brought Dr. Joachim P. Kuettner, Redstone Arsenal officer, who spoke on "Man's Round Trip into Space."

Gail Hyle, chairman of the lecture series, talks to the speaker, Dr. Kuettner.

Dr. John Turner, left, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Advent, presented a red Bible to the Chapel on behalf of his congregation. The Right Reverend Michael Coleman assisted.

Dr. Kuettner discusses the space age with students following his illustrated message.

Student body president Wayne Flynt, and Gail Hyle look at some of Dr. Kuettner's slides.

'R. U. R.'

A robot construction plant goes on the blink, and the robots take over the plant and the entire world in the Masquer's first production of the year.

Here the plant workers and scientists welcome a female visitor.

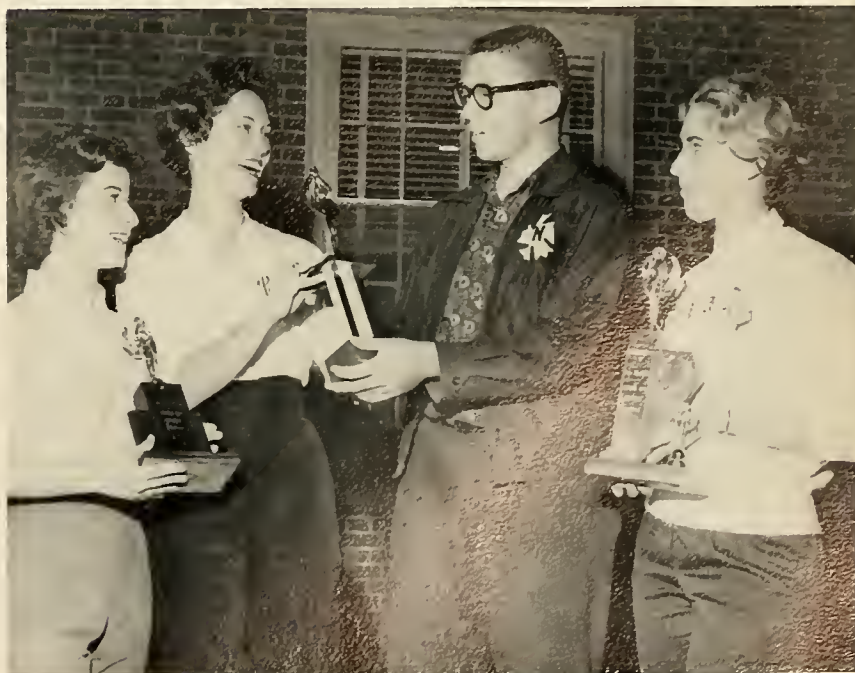

Under the leadership of Robot leader, Sanford Colley, extreme right, the robots take over the plant.

After destruction of the human race, scientist Charles Sims, the only human, searches for hope.

Phi Delta Chi members, Jael Leigh and Bill Brawn pay their $1 for a palia shot. Campus Nurse, Mrs. Jack Arnold, gave the shots.

DECEMBER

Steps for the competitive Step-Sing were erected in the Gym with the H-Club singing its annual song, "Tom Dooley."

A stage in the cafeteria for Entre Nous Contest presented the 20 "Belles of Christmas" with Janette Young crowned Miss Entre Nous.

"Carol-swaps" were performed by the dorms, and the local police finally became convinced that the mass meetings were not panty roids . . .

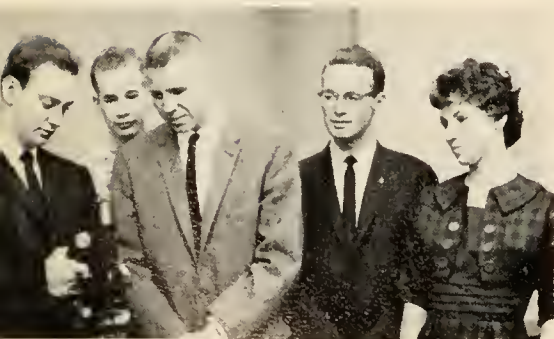

The basketball team continued the winning ways in December.

Station WRHC, broadcasting live from the Haward Campus, at last made it on the air with the assistance of the S.G.A. and Ron Dorris, station monoger.

The Christmas season brought dormitory open houses, and the boys dug up their creative ability to decorate their home for Christmas. The season brought charity basketball games. The Kingsmen and the Walf-Hollow All-Stars performed on the court with the funds going to the Goodfellows. Wha was helping wha?

MISS DECEMBER, Molly Hodges, decorates her tree as the school begins its Christmas season.

JANUARY

The campus rumbled back to work following the Christmas holidays and had to go to school on New Year's Day.

The A Cappella Choir left for its 12th tour (some students have been on all) which covered Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

If Christmas comes, can finals be far behind? Frantic students crammed for exams . . . The library looked like the Student Union Building for about two weeks, coffee flowed and "Midnight" oil was precious . . .

Just before exams the Bulldog cagers won their ninth straight game by steam-rolling Belhaven.

Registration time again, and ice and snow conquered even the IBM machine, and the students were given an extra day to enroll. This made classes a day late, and students stayed up late worrying about the loss of study time . . . all were anxious to get back to work . .

MISS JANUARY, Pot Kelso, tears off December to start 1961.

The Ugly Mon Contest produced

. . . . Robert, the ugly

. . . . Bobby, the Terrible . . . Robert, the Nauseating . . . Mike, the Grotesque.

. . . . But here's the winner, Norman Rice, the handsome, consoled by A.P.O. sweetheart Sondra Sims. A.P.O. sponsored the event.

Another service of A.P.O. . . . President Gene Martin helps Dr. Mabry Lunceford distribute Chopel hymn-books purchased by A.P.O.

As the fall semester closed, this type of class "attention and enthusiasm" . . .

. . . produced this type of results . . . pass the sleeping pills brother . . .

"Registration comes but twice a year;
let's all stand and give a cheer . . ."
(poem by Langliner)

Registrar James Clark helps make the task a little easier for these students as he guides them through the lines.

"DAY WITH CONCERT BAND"

To make music, you must take some bloring saxophones . . .

. . . add a couple of sliiide trombones . . .

. . . take a look at the director . . .

. . . move in closer as he raises his hand . . .

. . . and you have concert music performed by the College Concert Bond under the Direction of Mr. Floyd McCoy.

FEBRUARY

The Concordio Choir performed on campus in the Chapel as part of the Concert and Lecture Series.

Christian Focus Week brought an assortment of beauty contest winners, attorneys, recording artists, scientists, and executives to the campus.

Howard romped Birmingham Southern for the first meeting of the teams in basketball in four years at the Montgomery Invitational Tournament . . . but the glory of victory was dimmed as Miss Homecoming, Gail Hyle, was killed in an accident traveling from the game. The next night an inspired team edged host Huntingdon to win the tournament.

The Trustees announced tuition changes and compulsory meal tickets for resident students which brought out howls . . . all to naught . . .

Two sets of Howard Debate Teams won tournaments during the same weekend and the next weekend hosted the state high school teams on the campus.

The weather went haywire during February, and not even the weatherman knew when to take his umbrella . . .

MISS FEBRUARY, Kay Calfee, sends her valentine to her favorite, the Howard College student body.

All facets of college helped Christian Focus Week. Seated are: Dean, Greeks; Cannell, B.S.U.; Beasley, Home Ec. Standing: Mashburn, Speech; Rowe, Music; Hart, Chairman; and Barnes, P.E.

The new semester brought new students who are greeted by rain and more rain. Jim Maare and Becky Logan keep smiling in spite.

Cooch Bobby Bowden, center, holds the plaque containing the names of football's most valuable players each year. This year's winners, Bobby Jackson, left, and Banwell Royal, right, were chosen the most valuable back and linemen.

President Leslie Wright signs the lease for the new Pike house to be built on the campus. Ralph Gildewell and Beasley Williams, Pike Alumni, assist.

Christian Focus Week services brought personalities from all walks of life to give inspiration and information during the week of services.

Each service was well attended and the crowd overflowed into the balcony. This group in the picture is obviously out of hearing range.

FEBRUARY BROUGHT ... ICE ...

Ice covered the roads and blocked town students from going to classes . . . much to the sorrow of all students and faculty members?

... AND RAIN

Strang backs and weak minds were the hit of the day.

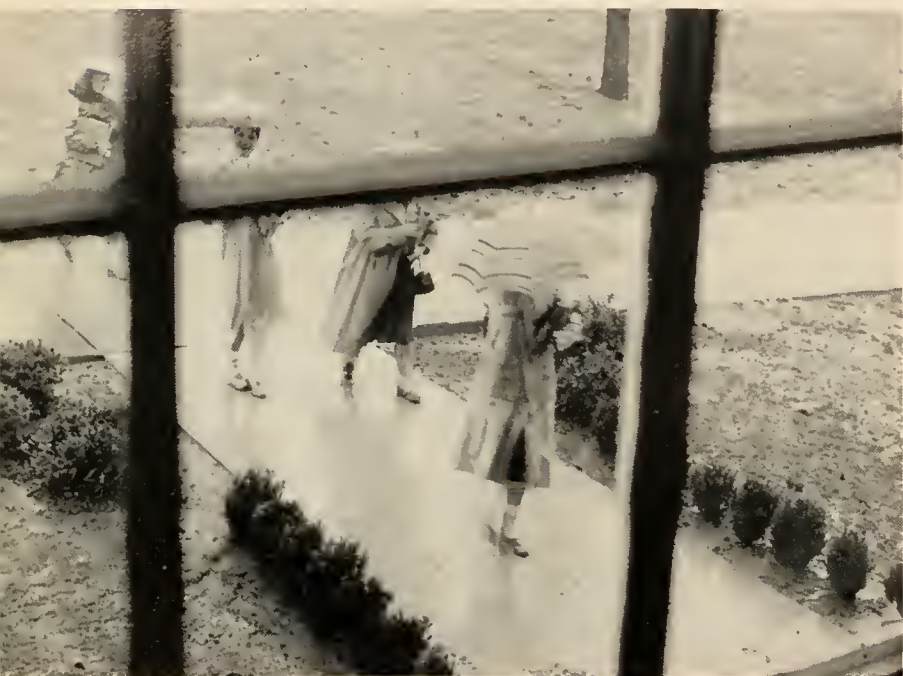

During the month, the weatherman threw the record book away as the constant rains and ice shattered such records as largest hail stones (watermelon size), most days of rain ("forty days and forty nights" — now we know how Noah felt), and most rain fall (4,592,001 gallons and 4 oz. in one hour.)

Varsity Debators ran away with the Florida State Tournament, doubling the score of 2nd and 3rd place schools. Left to Right: Holder, Rogsdale, Luther, Flynt, and Smith.

Gail Hyle, cheerleader, beauty, leader, and friend, was killed coming back from the Huntingdon Invitational Basketball Tournament.

... AND MORE RAIN!!

Mr. Thomas Hicks, physics, helps the installation of the cyclotron in its new campus home.

"THREE MEN ON A HORSE"
The spring production got a humble greeting card writer, who had a talent for the horses, mixed up with some bookies.

Ned Russell gives the horse the latest dope on the races.

Charles Sims, right, gets the news of the races over the phone.

MARCH

The campus searched for the Best Dressed Female in a contest sponsored by Circle K, which really was a first-class service to the campus males.

Football got into the act as Spring Training began, and the first day's outfits included water wings . . . with all the water.

The Colonial Dames presented prizes for historical essays in chapel.

David Lowe of C.B.S. brought complete camera equipment to listen to student orators in chapel, which was taken down on film . . . probably to be used as recruiting films for students . . . for Birmingham Southern.

Student President Wayne Flynt won a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship in history.

Spring sports began and the baseball team took Auburn University on their own field in one of the first games of the season. The track team found the running warmer in the Chattanooga Indoor Meet.

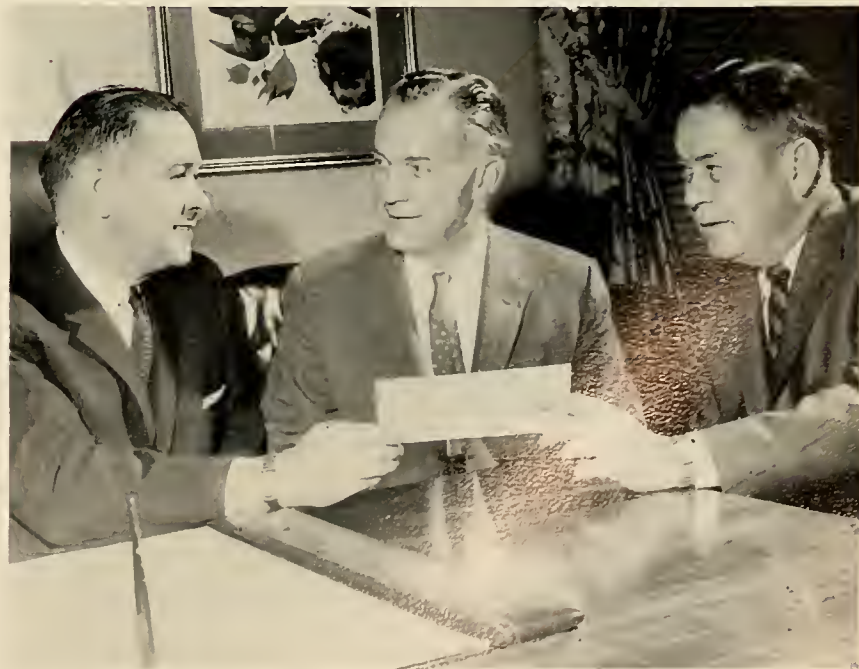

New cheerleaders were elected for next year: Margie Gaerner, Anita Funderburk, June Vinson, Ricky Harvey, Janette Young, Alice Herring, and Ruth Colley.

MISS MARCH, Virginia Harrison, launches her kite with the aid of March winds.

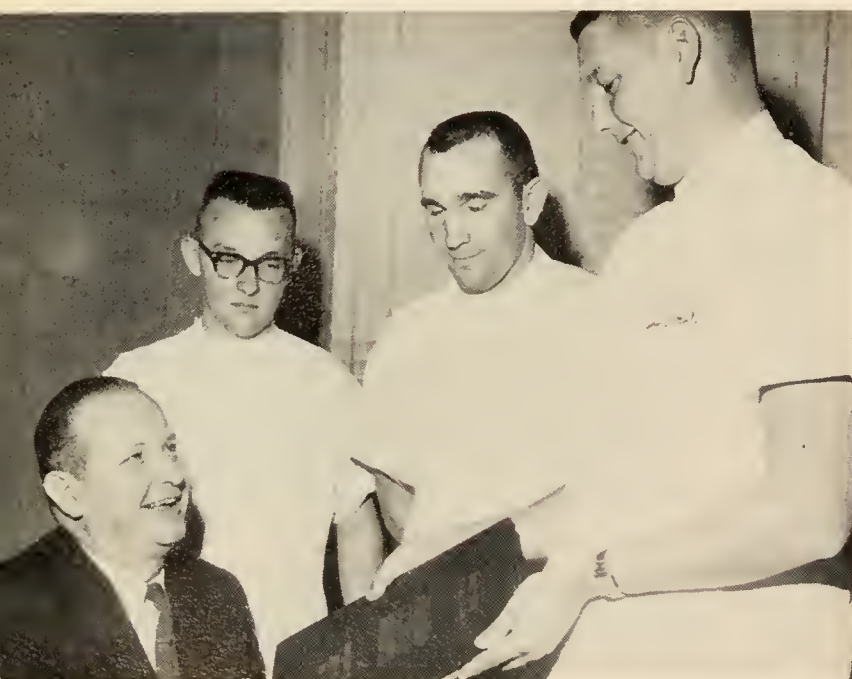

President Leslie Wright and Dr. George Irons, History Department head, examine the announcement from Freedom Foundation of a George Washington medal presented to Howard.

President Wright receives a $1,500 check from George Wott and C. L. Whitaker, representatives of International Harvester Foundation, for the Alabama Independent College Foundation.

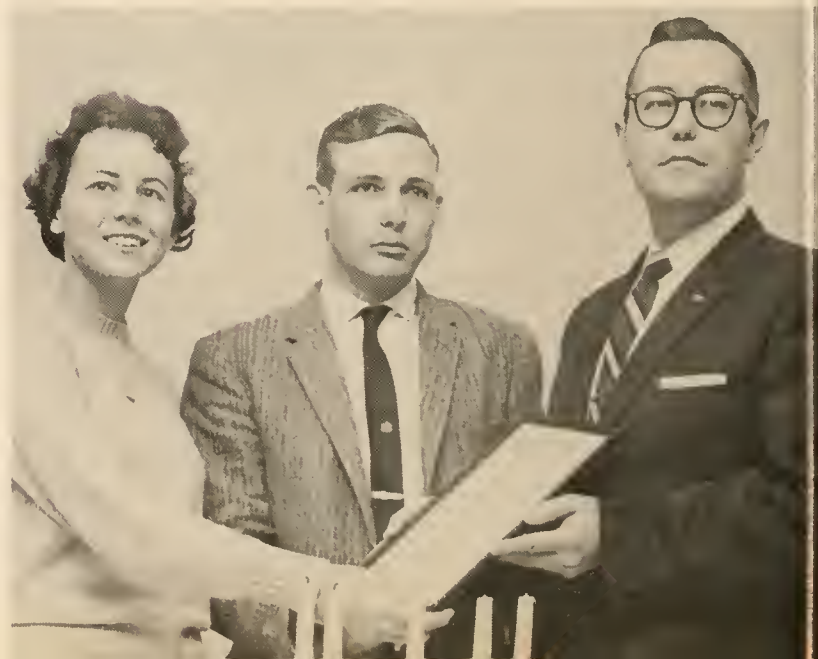

CBS newsman David Lowe questioned Howard students during chapel dealing with such topics as job opportunities, segregation, and educational facilities. The session was filmed to be used on a national program, "Portrait of a City." Students questioned were loquacious . . . but when aren't they . . . comments were intelligent and open-minded.

Pharmacy fraternity, Kappa Psi, members Alexander, Hatfield, and Gore present Pharmacy head Dr. W. R. Byrum with a guest book for the department.

Upper right: The first guest to sign the book was Wilber Powers who spoke to the pharmacy student body.

Howard sponsored a high school debate tournament. Wayne Flynt, standing, was tournament director along with Miss Nancy Jo Luther, and Mr. Allan Yeomans. (Actually this happened in February, but we couldn't make it fit . . . so here it is . . .)

Howard students look like this from the back . . . but turn around and let's look at their reactions to classes from the professor's point a view

Some are bored and yawn . . . others just sleep . . . while some draw . . . but the winner is the guy who thinks this all is funny . . . just wait until the old "F" arrives . . .

The Physical Education Majors sponsored the Easter Egg hunt for faculty children.

APRIL

Student elections arrived following Spring holidays and the old soap box was dusted off . . . until class speaking was prohibited.

Jim Norton's Whites won the intersquad game by whipping the Blues, 30-8. The track team skated to victory over Sewanee in 38 degree weather . . . with Julius Head winning both the 100 and 220 yard freezes . . .

Dr. Henry Stroue, director of graduate studies, Wake Forest College, spoke on topics dealing with the Civil War. He was sponsored by the Library.

Student elections arrived . . . the political rally was pocked . . . as well as the ballot box . . . with 1,100 honest votes that is . . . a record turnout.

The workshop plays brought out the ham in many students who performed.

Howard hosted an Invitational Track Meet with Mississippi College taking first place. Six teams competed.

Sanford Colley won the runoff for president in student elections on a platform of "School Spirit." (not "spirits" but "Spirit.")

President Leslie S. Wright announced that two new dormitories were to be constructed following a $750,000 loan by the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government.

MISS APRIL, Carol Lang, welcomes spring at last by wading in the stream on the college Nature Trail.

Harold Halder (no relation to the noble editor of this annual), learns the inside ropes to boiling water in preparation for an outdoor cooking class taught by Home Ec. Dept. He was successful in burning his fingers . . .

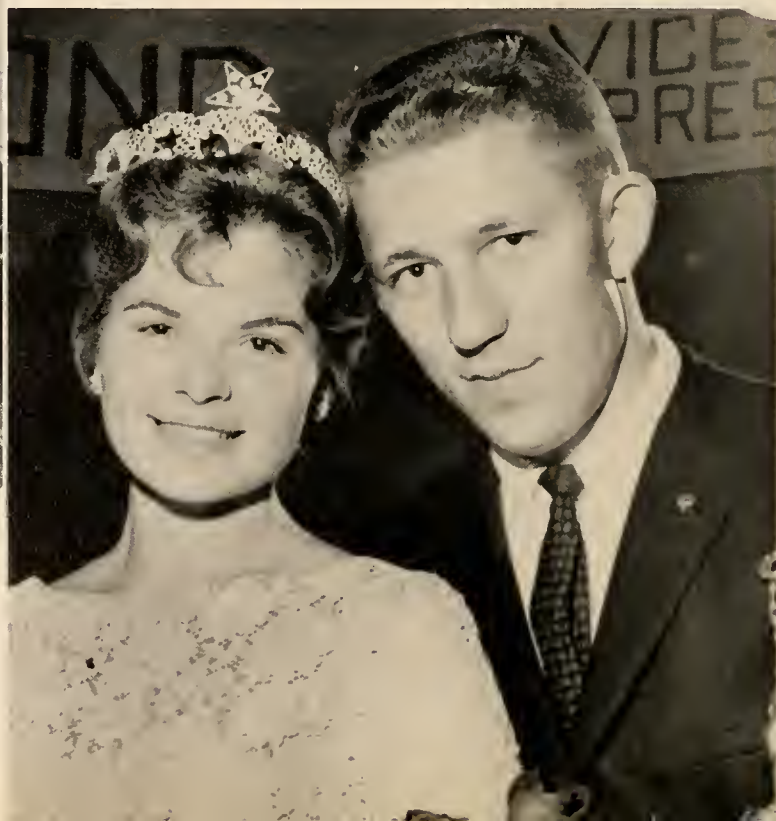

Dale Corley ponders his availability for a date with Ann Baynton as the tables are switched for Twirp Week.

A part of Twirp Week is selection of Mr. and Miss Friendship. Winners are: Elaine Brooks and Riley Childs, friendlist students, and Miss Lynn Raulersan and Dr. Mabry Lunceford, friendliest professors.

Each year the Greeks assume leadership of the campus organizations to bring about closer co-operation between all groups. Here Kenneth Cove, Week's chairman, models his laurel branch for the week. Left to right: Elliott, Dean, Hodges, and Gardner.

The Cliniax of the week was the crowning of the Greek goddess and gad, who this year were Sara Hayes and Rayban Willingham. (Haw's everything at Maunt Olympus . . . ?)

Each year student directors produce several plays with layman actors performing. These are scenes from three plays . . .

Tommy Carr looks at herself in a play of dual personalities . . . (take a closer look at the mirror).

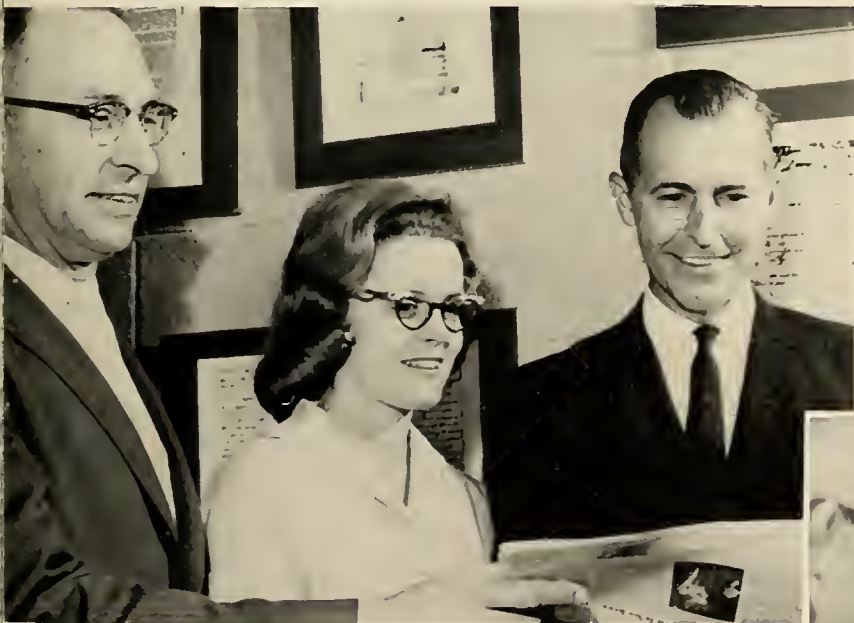

Safecracker Charles Purvis gets the cold shoulder from Annie Nelson, while he poses as a plumber.

Ned Russell puts Virginia Miller down on a violent argument over the Civil War . . . (he's probably a Yankee too . . .)

LIBRARY LECTURE SERIES

The Library presented Dr. Henry Stroupe of Wake Forest who spoke on newspapers and the Civil War.

Dr. Stroupe, right, points out items in a old newspaper to Wilbur Helmbold and Nancy Gibson prior to one of the lectures.

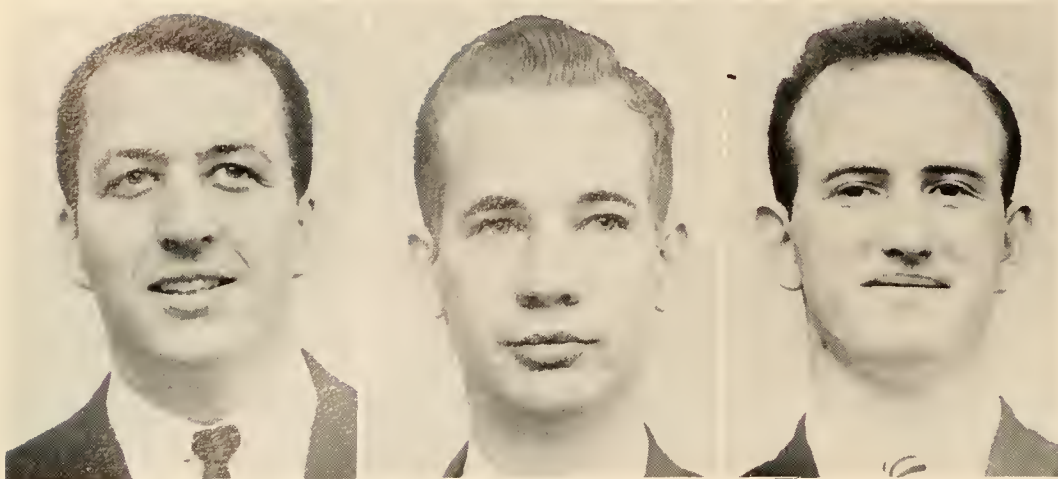

Dr. Stroupe answers questions following his lecture on "Newspapers and History."

Sigma Nu Commander Bill McNeil receives the O.D.K. scholarship cup for Sigma Nu having the highest average for fraternities. O.D.K. President Bill Hornbuckle made the presentation.

ELECTIONS

Presidential candidates . . . Colley . . . Crook . . . and Tarter . . .

The Student Government elections this year whipped up more enthusiasm and interest than in the past few elections with a controversial candidate for president coming in strong to win the primary and lose the final run-off. Many issues, debates, and a record 1,100 votes were cast.

President Wayne Flynn held the polls . . .

Decisions were tough to make . . .

. . . but, ah, did we have lots of help!! This is called "Community effort" . . . the guy voting is unseen for all the helpers . . . (nothing like individuality.)

Finally . . . after a tough runoff . . . and two recounts the new officers were selected: Left to right: Treasurer Gory Wolfskill, President Sonford Colley, Vice-president Raybon Willingham, and Secretary Elaine Brooks.

New publication editors were selected . . . ENTRE NOUS, Carolyn Kendrick; CRIMSON, Catherine Bryant; and BULLPUP, Sylvia Smith.

...IN THE FINAL TALLY...

... SOME WENT IN ...
... AND OTHERS WENT OUT ...

President-elect Colley receives congratulations . . .

. . . While out-going president, Wayne Flynt (center) goes into Vulcan's fish pond . . . where all good politicians . . . and engaged males go . . . Wayne is both . . .

MISS MAY, Sue Morton, searches for her graduation gown as she looks to senior chapel and other graduation events.

MAY

May was kicked off with H-Day operating under the theme of the "Old South" which provided free food and contests for all. Anita Funderburke and Rayban Willingham were crowned Mr. and Miss Howard for 1960-61.

Prediction of the August completion of the new addition to the gym was good news. (Now we can watch basketball games without looking around pasts.)

Five honor and recognition societies tapped fifty new members at annual tap day.

The concert band had its annual spring concert. Pharmacy presented twenty-three students with awards during their Honor's Day Banquet. Spring banquets dotted the calendar (actually they smothered the calendar.)

Graduation saw 270 seniors get sheepskins after going to Senior Chapel, Candlelight Dinner, Baccalaureate Sermon, President's Reception, and Graduation.

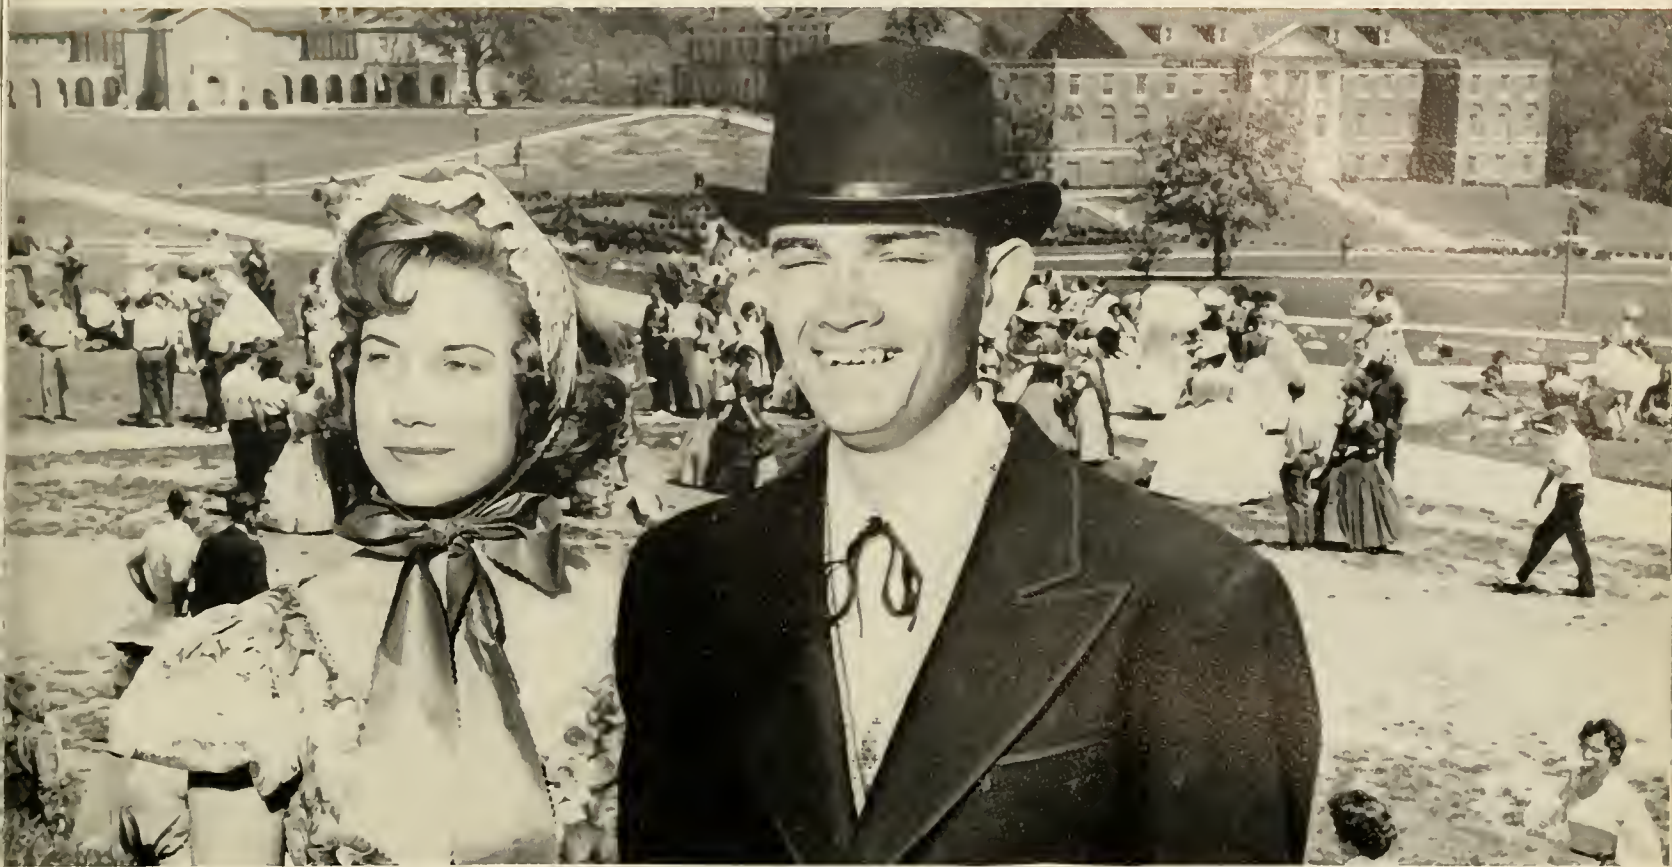

June Vinson and Ruth Colley make sounds of music in preparation for the Howard Water Show.

Sara Hayes ponders the problem of selecting the best fraternity. Frat men reaching for the trophy are: Hobson, Marlowe, Dallor, and Moyer.

H-DAY

H-Day was considered one of the best and biggest. The climax was the pageant and the crowning of Miss and Mr. Howard. Here, Mary Lane Holland and Dale Landers carry out the theme of the dress for the day, "Old South."

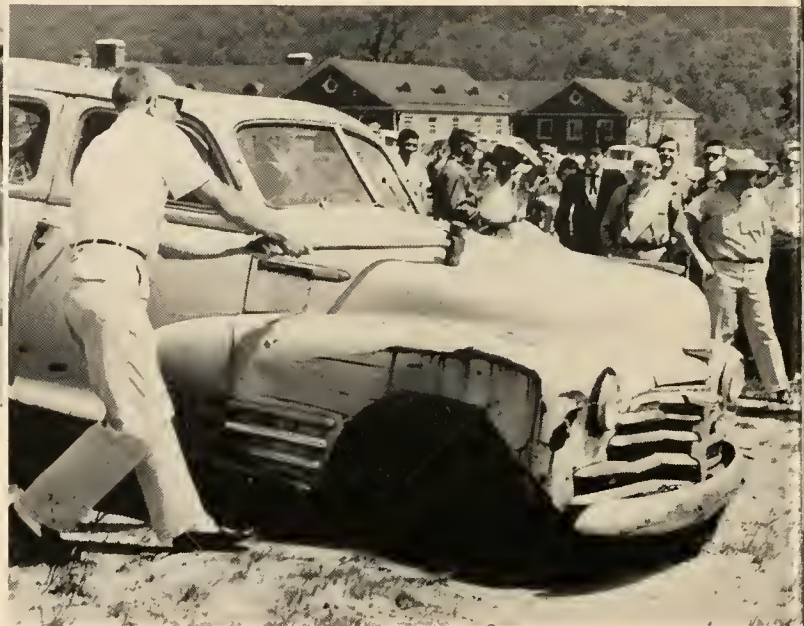

Since the year was a centennial of the Civil War, the group was rough an Carpet Beggars . . . (James Kelly and Tam McClendon rough up Ralph Harnsby.)

. . . and Abe Linclon was ossassinated. (Sanford Calley is shot by Johnny Lee.)

Elaine Brooks and Tom McClendon dress out in their best Confederate outfits for H-Day. (Note Colonial home in the background . . . actually it is the library.)

Larry Richmond sloms o Yankee cor which was made in Detroit. Circle K sponsored this . . . many students imagined this car to be their favorite professor . . .

Always a favorite, free food, was handed out . . .

Note how the mouths of the people fly open when their elbow is bent.

Chester Swar was a special visitor and he autographed copies of his latest book for Eloine Brooks and student body president (?) Wayne Flynt, who is dressed for the occasion . . . in his regular school clothes.

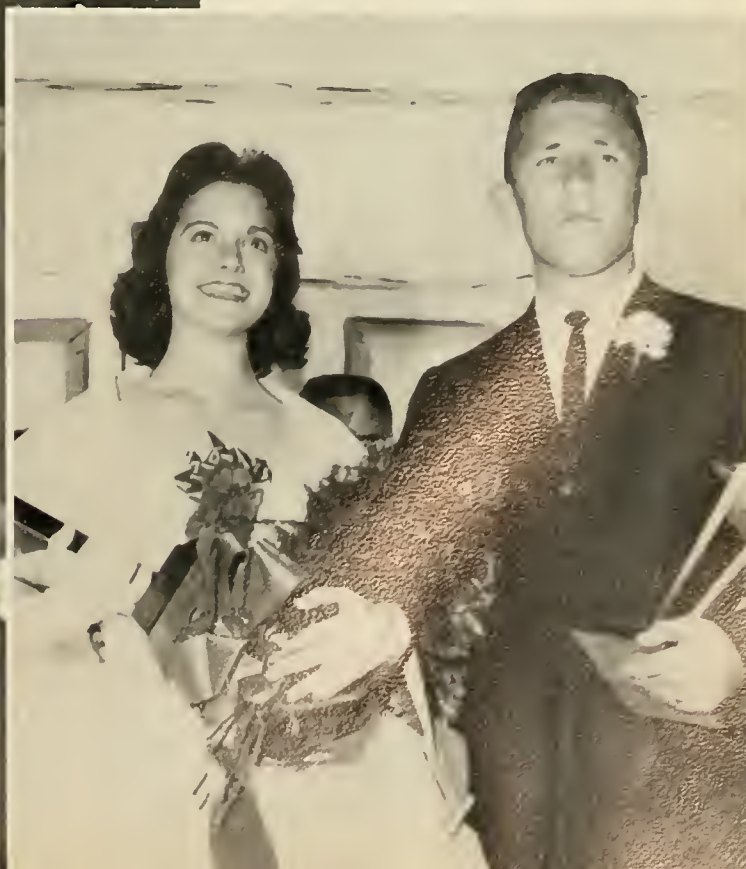

Pie eating winner, Dee Harrison, finishes off the victory bite.

H-Doy committee members slaved long and hard to construct a life size Southern home which served as a stage for the crowning ceremonies.

Miss Howard, Anita Funderburk, and Mr. Howard, Raybon Willingham, start their new reigns . . .

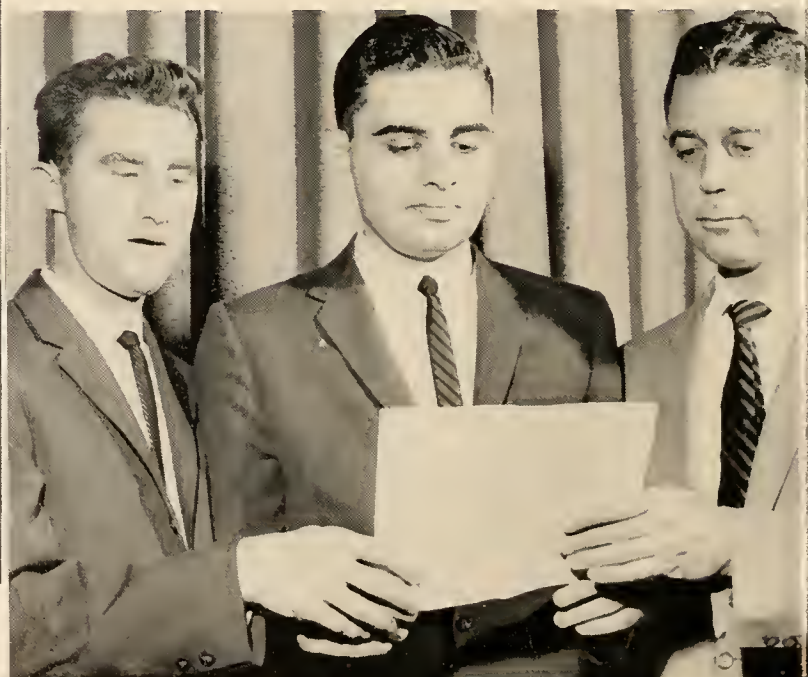

Trident, highest scholastic organization for men, had the members pose for a picture. First row: (left to right) Dale, Walker, Halbrooks, Wheeler, Moore, and Flynt; Second Row: Peebles, Edwards, Irons, Hawley, Bailey, Wright, Helmbold, Holder, and Wintter.

Special service awards went to Hoyt Oliver, Charles McCollum, and Bill Brown.

PHARMACY AWARDS

Paul Crane, Anthony Rumore, and John McCarty, received scholastic and service awards.

IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD

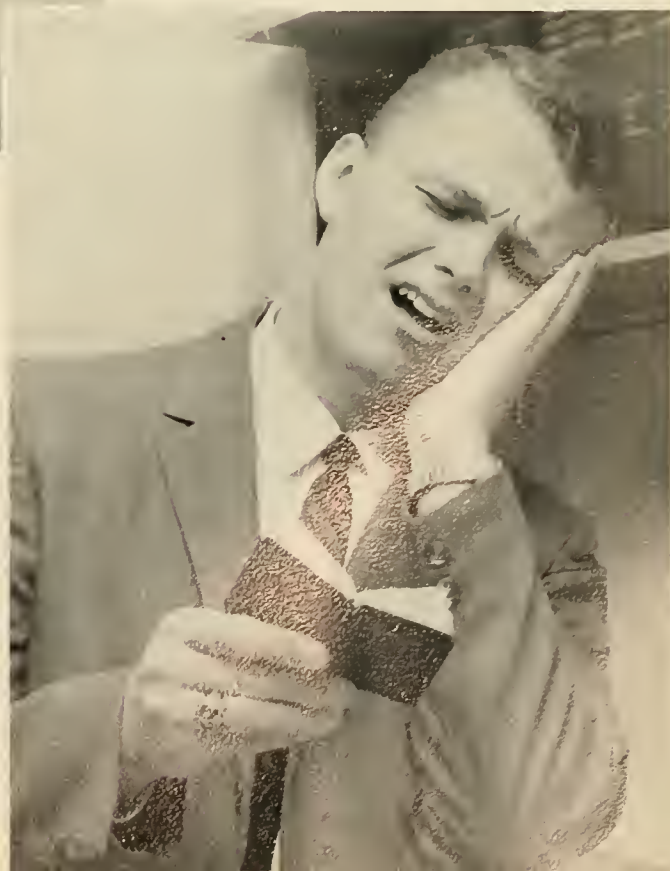

"Boy she's cute . . . and I guess worth the trouble . . . she flirted with me today . . ."

"Well, I've fixed up enough . . . I just hope she likes the restaurant with reserved tables . . ."

"Ohhh . . . noooo . . . this can't be the wrong day . . ."

GRADUATION

Graduation began with the traditional Candlelight Dinner which was forced inside due to rain.

Alumni officers help light the candles: John Lea, Mrs. Margaret McCurry, Earl Goodwin and Mike White.

President Wright and Mrs. Wright entertained the seniors at the President's Reception. Wayne Flynt and Lucy Jane Dunn enjoy the Wrights' hospitality.

Faculty prepares to lead the grand march into the Baccalaureate Sermon.

Dr. Cornell Goerner, Southern Baptist Mission Board member, gave the sermon.

All went solemnly in . . .

. . . Until all 270 were in place.

Slowly they march into stadium . . .

The long black line marks the seniors' final showing.

Graduation award winners with President Wright and speaker Dr. Harris (center) are: Gene Martin, William Hester Manly Award; Wayne Flynt, John R. Mott Cup; Mitzi Goerner, Gail Hyle Memorial Award; and Myralyn Frizzelle, Hypatia Cup.

Dr. Rufus Harris, president of Mercer University, challenged the graduation class to meet problems they did not create.

Yes, it's true, the combination of two colors produces a third color. This can be accomplished in one press run on Commercial Printing Company's giant two-color press. Literally hundreds of variations are possible from two basic colors.

The picture of "Miss Entre Nous" was printed on this Commercial Press

This press is typical of the modern equipment and facilities throughout the Commercial Plant . . . But there's more to it than that . . . Put a man on an inferior press and he loses much of his pride . . . most of his "try" . . . Put him on the finest equipment and he meets the challenge of making his own skill match the capabilities of the equipment . . . It's that simple . . . It's that important . . . Let Commercial Printing meet your printing challenge.
